

Sea Angling Diary Project

Terms and Conditions

The Terms and Conditions of the project state that:

- Any data collected for the project will be managed and processed by Substance in collaboration with Cefas, in accordance with GDPR regulations.
- By taking part, you are agreeing that data provided in the sign-up survey, online diary tool and mobile app can be used for the purposes of the Sea Angling Diary Project.
- All data will be anonymised except for the operation of the project - such as reminder email and online diary tool support.
- Data will be stored securely and no personal information will be passed onto any other party unless you have given express permission for that to be done.
- Data will be anonymised and only used in aggregate form for analysis.
- We will store your personal data until at least the end of 2023 unless you specifically withdraw, which you can ask to do at any time by emailing seaanglingdiary@substance.net. Further information can be found at www.seaangling.org.

Your participation and provision of data is subject to the general privacy policy of Substance, which is available here: <https://www.substance.net/privacy-notice/>